

How Nozoil[®] helps protect and heal nasal tissue

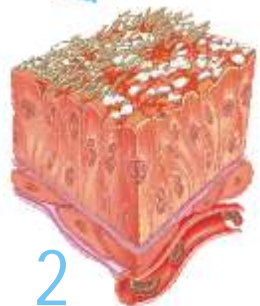

1 Causes of inflammation

- Dry environments
- Some medications
- CPAP & Oxygen therapy
- Surgery
- Radiotherapy
- Age related crusting

4

Normal/healed tissue
Mucus blanket keeps tissue moist

2

Sore nose
Inadequate mucus blanket
may cause tissue to dry, crust and bleed

3

Treated with Nozoil

Nozoil[®] remains on the epithelium,
protecting it while healing occurs

CONSUMER INFORMATION

What is Nozoil®?

Nozoil® contains Sesamum Indicum (Sesame seed oil). This is a pharmaceutical grade oil which contains all three natural forms of Vitamin E.

Why use Nozoil®?

1. Laboratory testing has shown that Vitamin E has both protective and healing properties when applied to nasal tissue.

(Ref: Vitamin E attenuates the injurious effects of bioactive phospholipids on human ciliated epithelium in vitro. Feldman C. et al European Respiratory Journal 2001 Vol 18 pp122-129)

2. Clinical studies have shown that Nozoil® gives greater relief from dryness than isotonic saline solutions.

(Ref: Pure Sesame Oil vs Isotonic Sodium Chloride Solution as treatment for Dry Nasal Mucosa. J. Johnsen et al. Archives of Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery Vol 127 Nov 2001 pp 135)

3. Clinical study has shown that the use of Nozoil in nasal CPAP significantly relieves side effects of that therapy.

(Ref: A randomised single blinded cross over trial of sesame oil (Nozoil) for the treatment of nasal symptoms associated with nasal CPAP. Feenstra J et al.)

How to use Nozoil®?

1
Insert 1-2 sprays or 2-4 drops into each nostril

2
Pinch both nostrils together and tilt head back for a few seconds

3
Tilt head to each side for 5 seconds

Nozoil® Drops alleviate dryness and cracking around the nose and lips too

Use as often as required
